

2nd EPISOUTH training module and workshop

Madrid, 2 – 6 June 2008

Fernando Simón on behalf of the WP5 Steering team

Contributions

- Instituto de Salud Carlos III
 - National Centre of Epidemiology
 - National School of Public Health
- European Commission
- Ministero de la Salute (Italy)
 - EPIMED
- European Centre for Disease Control
- World Health Organization

Network for Communicable Disease Control in Southern Europe and Mediterranean Countries

Context

September 2007

- 1st EPISOUTH training module
 - Workshop on surveillance systems
 - Introduction to the analysis of surveillance data (time and space)

January 2008

- Training needs assessment final report

Network for Communicable Disease Control in Southern Europe and Mediterranean Countries

Objectives

- To understand and discuss the importance of surveillance and health information for risk assessment in the context of health alerts and IHR
- To understand basic concepts of ID dynamics and modelling and its use for decision making

Network for Communicable Disease Control in Southern Europe and Mediterranean Countries

Methods

- Formal training
 - Lectures (Room 1)
 - Case-studies (Rooms 1 & 5, seminars 1 & 6)
 - Computer exercises (Computer room 1)
- Workshops
 - Round tables (Room 1)
 - Group work discussion (same as case studies)

Network for Communicable Disease Control in Southern Europe and Mediterranean Countries

Module programme